And they say drugs'll kill you! Gentlemanly punk legend Lou Reed and his equally fascinating lady love, performance artist and musician Laurie Anderson, are everywhere these days! Tonight, Ms. Anderson is honored at a gala for the Soho arts hub Location One (she will also provide the evening's entertainment). In attendance: stars of the recently burst art bubble, including Richard Prince (an artist when not designing Louis Vuitton bags), gallerist Matthew Marks, artist Martha Rosler and performance artist Marina Abramović (not to be confused with Russian gazillionaire art collector Roman Abramovich), and, curiously, the wise feminist Gloria Steinem. (How long can CBGB keep selling tarp green Italian silk crewneck sweaters, anyways, we ask?)
